welcome to Sydney

Sydney, one of the world's most liveable cities

Home to the iconic Opera House and Harbour Bridge, Sydney is one of the world's most attractive cities for international visitors. Ranked as one of the world's most liveable cities, Sydney is the gateway to Australia. Our world-class attractions, golden beaches, pristine national parks and unique cultural experiences make studying in Sydney an experience unlike any other.

Studying away from home is your chance to immerse yourself in a new culture, expand your horizons, make new friends and create memories that will last a lifetime.

Our Campuses

From its origins in 1996 as a specialised management college, today ICMS has four campuses and more than 2000 students from around the world gaining qualifications in a diverse range of fields. Three of our campuses are located on the beautiful Northern Beaches region of Sydney, including "the castle on the hill" in Manly, the Esplanade Campus, and ISCA in North Narrabeen. ICMS also has a city campus in the heart of Sydney's CBD.

Culture

Australia prides itself on being the country of the 'fair go'. This means we value fairness and common courtesies. Waiting patiently for your turn in a queue and using 'please' and 'thank you' will go a long way with most Australians. Another popular Australian expression is 'no worries' because Australians are generally pretty laid back. We have a cheeky sense of humour and a relaxed attitude about most things in life. However, there is one thing that nearly all Australians are extremely passionate about – sport. If you talk to an Aussie about their favourite sport you could make a friend for life. Along with a thriving arts scene, beachside lifestyle, and cosmopolitan dining experiences, live sporting events are a large part of life in Sydney. The website sydney.com/events is a great resource for event inspiration.

Climate

Known for its blue skies and sunshine, Sydney has a mild and pleasant climate. Our mid-winter temperatures rarely fall below 10oC (50oF) while mid-summer temperatures can occasionally reach 36oC (97oF) with 22oC (72oF) the average.

Cost of living in Sydney

If you have never lived away from home, be aware there are lots of things, apart from your tuition fees, you need to budget for. The cost of living in Australia depends on many varying factors such as choice of accommodation, location and individual students' spending habits. Australia's Department of Home Affairs has financial requirements you must meet in order to receive a student visa and hence to cover the cost of living expenses in Australia. From 23 October 2019, the amount for the primary applicant is $21,041. Our website icms.edu.au has helpful links about cost of living and includes a table that provides a guide to common expenses.

Generally, the cost of living in Sydney really depends on the lifestyle you lead. If you like extravagance you might spend a little more on luxuries, but for the more modest budget there are many free and low cost activities to enjoy in Sydney. As an outdoor city, Sydney has countless beaches, national parks, and sporting fields to keep you entertained without spending a cent.

Safety and security

ICMS is committed to providing a safe campus for students. At our Manly campus, Managers on Duty are available 24 hours a day and are trained in first aid. ICMS also has specific first aid staffers and offers a free shuttle bus that runs to and from Manly.

ICMS is committed to providing a safe and healthy workplace place of study and work for all students and staff, including freedom from sexual assault and sexual harassment. When you're at ICMS, we ask that you cooperate with actions taken to protect health and safety; seek information or advice from a staff member before performing new or unfamiliar tasks; report all health and safety accidents, incidents and hazards as soon as is practicable; and follow emergency evacuation procedures.

Australia is generally regarded as one of the safest countries in the world. However, it is still important that you look after yourself in your new country. Overseas health cover (OSHC) is a good idea and you can either arrange this yourself or ICMS can arrange this for you. Your Letter of Offer will have more information about this.

Think about getting private health insurance for those things that OSHC does not cover and consider travel insurance for things like missed flights and lost luggage.

You may also need Home and Contents insurance for your belongings or vehicle Insurance if you intend to have a car in Australia.

Getting around

The ICMS Northern Beaches Campus in Manly is located 17 minutes by fast ferry from the city of Sydney. The public transport system in Sydney includes ferries, trains and buses. The ICMS City Campus is conveniently located in the heart of the city close to Central Station, light rail and buses. The easiest way to get around on public transport is to purchase an Opal card (opal.com.au). This covers travel on combined forms of transport around Sydney, including trains, ferries and buses.

Working in Sydney

As an international student you are able to work in Australia for up to 40 hours per fortnight (two week period), with unlimited hours during ICMS vacation periods. ICMS international students completing their industry training placement are eligible to work full time during this training period as the work placement is a subject within their degree and does not have the same restrictions. For more information on your visa privileges, visit homeaffairs.gov.au.

The Northern Beaches Campus

The Northern Beaches Campus
151 Darley Road, Manly 2095

From its origins in 1996 as a specialised management college, today ICMS has four campuses and more than 2000 students from around the world gaining qualifications in a diverse range of fields.

Fondly known as “the castle on the hill” (where the Hollywood blockbuster The Great Gatsby was filmed and where Nicole Kidman and Keith Urban were married), the ICMS castle is a Sydney landmark dating back to the 19th Century. The imposing structure dominating the northern Sydney’s beachside suburb’s landscape won worldwide acclaim when it was built by the Catholic Church between 1885 and 1889. The building, with its Gothic style and romantic central bell tower, holds a commanding position overlooking the azure of Sydney Harbour and the Pacific Ocean. The entire estate covers 20 hectares of parkland.

The campus is a five-minute walk to the famous Manly Beach and Manly’s CBD, which is well known for its shopping precinct, cafés, restaurants and beachside lifestyle. A few minutes’ walk in the other direction will lead you to the foreshores of the harbour. There are harbourside bush walks to explore, extending more than 50 kilometres north and south. ICMS is also close to access points to Sydney city – it’s a pleasant 17 minutes by fast ferry from Manly ferry wharf.

The Manning Building has high historic significance and is an important building to the City of Sydney. The facade dates to 1892 and, at the time it was built, made a significant contribution to the surrounding precinct, including the recently restored Capitol Theatre, which is in the same block.

Internally, the Manning Building has been extensively modified and renovated. Entering through the impressive lobby, students have high security access to state-of-the-art facilities. Lectures are offered on the 4th floor in ICMS' contemporary training and executive education centre, which showcases a vibrant and innovative learning environment, with expansive classrooms, modern study areas and an abundance of natural light, as well as complimentary refreshment facilities.

your classmates

ICMS is not just a college, it is a community. With over 2,000 students from more than 55 countries, our student population is smaller than most universities. This is the perfect environment for meeting new people and forming lifelong friendships and professional partnerships.

over 1000 Industry Partners

The International College of Management, Sydney (ICMS) has worked with over 1000 industry partners, a milestone that places ICMS at the forefront of career-focused higher education in Australia.

ICMS is located on the Northern Beaches, NSW, just outside Sydney, but work experience through industry partners can take students abroad. Long term partner, Walt Disney World Resort in Florida has hosted 58 students over the years.

Closer to home, Northern Beaches Council has hosted 12 students, Lakeba Group - 24 students and Novotel Sydney Manly Pacific - 30 students.

"Reaching this milestone speaks volumes about how serious we are about working with industry partners to ensure our students are leaders in their fields and highly employable," ICMS CEO and President Dr Dominic Szambowski said.

"Thank you to all our industry partners over the years for partnering with us as we shape the leaders of tomorrow. We appreciate your support, your investment in our students and your willingness to mentor within your organisations."

ICMS offers university-level degrees in disciplines ranging from sports management and international tourism to hospitality, events and property management.

With industry partners crossing the spectrum from global events agency CIEVENTS, the worlds largest commercial real estate and investment company, CBRE to the Sydney

International Convention Centre (ICC), the Football Federation Australia (FFA) and Sydney based Australian Rules Football team, GWS Giants, ICMS students are given the opportunity to be at the coalface of the industry of their chosen discipline.

Industry partners, both in Australia and abroad, offer ICMS students the opportunity to complete the work integrated learning subjects built into each degree. The ICMS Industry Training placement entails working for up to two trimesters (approximately nine months full-time) for undergraduate degree students. This is an opportunity for students to prepare for their future professional career by gaining relevant experience in their chosen industry, learning skills required and gaining valuable contacts and networks.

For many students, these internships translate into employment post-graduation, with almost 90% of ICMS students employed in their field before they graduate. There are over 1000 industry partners on the ICMS database, and in each period of work placement, ICMS works with over 100 industry partners.

There are also a number of industry partners with ICMS alumni at the forefront of the organisation, a fantastic scenario of past students giving current students the opportunity to take their first steps up the ladder of their chosen career. ICMS alumnus Alejandro Jara, founder of Black & White Waiters, offers an annual scholarship opportunity to current hospitality or events management students.

your support network

The ICMS community prides itself on being more personal than larger universities. We want you to succeed so we support you with an extensive range of services and facilities.

Learning and English Assistance

ICMS offers a wide variety of academic support services for students. Our Student Success Centre (SSC) has academic advisers who will help you to develop your academic skills and prepare you for the cultural change to tertiary student life. It has a specialised ESL advisor to help support students and a numeracy adviser who offers support in numeracy subjects. The SSC is open from Monday to Friday every week of the ICMS trimester. In addition, the SSC also provides individual support and provisions for students with special academic needs. We can assist you with effective study and exam preparation techniques, time and stress management, academic writing, oral presentations, and English language support (written, spoken and comprehension). Learning support can help you to reach your full academic potential.

The SSC also runs a Peer Assisted Learning Service (PALS). High performing students assist others in specific areas of their studies. Be it helping a student to grasp a key concept or steering them in the right academic direction, our PALS mentors give up their time voluntarily to ensure students succeed at ICMS.

Library – Pollard Resource Centre

The Pollard Resource Centre is home to your ICMS library. It is equipped with computers, books, journals and audio visual materials. Quiet areas and rooms dedicated to group study and meetings are also located in the Centre. Our highspeed printer/photocopier/scanner is available for student use.

Most importantly the library provides access to the college's impressive collection of electronic resources, including hundreds of thousands of e-book and e-journal titles from internationally respected publishers. Our friendly library staff will help you to use these resources efficiently for your assignments.

Personal Support

ICMS remains committed to the physical and emotional health and well-being of our students. We all need help from time to time. The ICMS Wellness Team provides appropriate guidance and personal support to our students if and when it is needed. If you feel overwhelmed at any time, or a personal problem arises, you can speak to our Wellness Team who can help you or guide you in finding appropriate help.

Student Representative Council (SRC)

The Student Representative Council (SRC) strives to improve and maintain the quality of student life for the entire student body. The SRC is elected by peers and acts as an advocate for the student body with the SRC President holding a position on the Learning and Teaching Committee. The SRC also works with our Student Experience Team to organise a range of social activities, including major events such as our College Icebreaker. Throughout ICMS trimesters, the SRC also holds regular events for students to enjoy.

Residential Leaders

Our Resident Leaders (RLs) are senior student leaders who live on campus and provide support to all ICMS students throughout their time at ICMS. The RLs are trained to offer support and advice on a range of day to day matters, including emotional support, student comfort, safety and behaviour. They have undergone training to provide mental and physical first aid and emergency response. They are also your student voice and can help you to resolve any issues about student life on campus.

Safety and Security

ICMS is committed to providing a safe campus for students. Our managers on duty are available 24 hours a day and are trained in first aid. ICMS also has specific first aid staffers and offers a free shuttle bus that runs to and from Manly.

Facilities

Facilities on the Northern Beaches campus include computer laboratories, tennis and basketball courts, café, bar, and a restaurant open to the public called the Grand Dining Room. Free wireless internet is available throughout the buildings of ICMS including classrooms and accommodation. At the City Campus you will find modern facilities, including a student dining area, secure access and several cafes within walking distance.

Career-focused online degrees

When you enrol and study through us via online learning, you will study the same career-focused degree as an on-campus student would.

Your degree will have the same small classes as on-campus students, and you will be assessed in the same way.

Graduate capabilities that get jobs

You will receive the same 21st Century Graduate Capabilities that make an ICMS qualification unique and graduate with an internationally recognised qualification.

Community of learning

Our online learning is cutting edge and allows for virtual communities to support you through your degree. From student chats and discussions to Online Academic Support 24/7 you will never feel alone while studying with us.

Study from home, intern in the real world

Your online study will include industry training - a key component of ICMS' degrees, and a driver of our career-focused approach. Our industry training consultants guide you through your Work Integrated Learning (WIL) subjects to find you a professional placement outside of the virtual space that is aligned with your career goals. That's one of the reasons why around 90%* of our graduates have a job in their field before they have finished their studies.

Dynamic, live classes

The lecturers who teach students on-campus are the same lecturers who teach online learning students. You have access to online streaming, and lecturers will engage with you in live sessions, so you will still feel a part of a community of learning.

Start online, finish on-campus

Your student experience will not be complete unless you are given the chance to meet the other young like-minded students with whom you've started the online journey. This is why you will have the flexibility to transition back to on-campus learning, if you would like to.

All of this means is that the level of quality in the delivery of your educational experience is the same as that delivered on campus.

Why did you choose to study at ICMS?
What factors influenced your decision?

I wanted to find an institution that would give me the edge when it came time to find a job. I didn't want to be just another graduate with no experience. When I discovered ICMS towards the end of my HSC I found out I would graduate in the same time frame as other universities, and be armed with up to nine months of full time industry training.

Why did you choose to study your degree?

I have always been intrigued and interested in business, and I grew up with talk about the family business. My interest was aided by my strong entrepreneurial drive from an early age and I was fixated on the idea of being able to one day create and lead an organisation of my own. In my later years of high school my fascination with business grew and, consequently, I decided I would pursue a degree and hopefully a career in business management.

What are your plans for when you complete your degree?

I hope to implement what I have learnt during my degree in the corporate and investment-banking sector. I feel I will be able to gain knowledge and experience through studying business-to-business banking and long term investments. ANZ Bank has provided me with a unique opportunity through my Professional Scholarship to work alongside them during my industry training and, therefore, I feel ANZ is an organisation I could develop with.

What extra activities have you been involved in at ICMS as a result of your scholarship?

As a condition of accepting a professional scholarship at ICMS you are required to participate as a student ambassador for 12 months. Becoming a student ambassador served as not only a way to meet students but to also improve presentation and communication skills at career exhibitions through showcasing the college to school students. I found this has significantly helped my presentation skills.

What are your other highlights from your first year at ICMS?

I could list many highlights from my short time at ICMS, which is a testament to the benefits of studying here. These include having personal links with top executives within ANZ Bank, only a year out of high school, and participating at the Eastern University UniGames as part of the ICMS Touch Football team.

What do you love most about being at ICMS?

If I had to say one thing, I'd have to say that it is large enough to be unfamiliar and feel as if you are stepping out of your comfort zone, while still being small enough to feel comfortable, enabling you to meet plenty of new people from around the world and learn in a friendly environment.

“When I discovered ICMS towards the end of high school I found out I would graduate in the same time frame as other universities, and be armed with up to nine months of full time industry training.”

SUBJECT SNAPSHOTS

ENT101 Entrepreneurship Foundations and Mindset

The subject aims to introduce the theory and practice of entrepreneurship, the characteristics of entrepreneurs, and the “mindset” of entrepreneurship in individuals and organisations. Students can gain an overview of the lean business start-up process, assess their own “mindset” for entrepreneurship and map out their journey to develop their mindset and skillset as entrepreneurs. The aim of the subject is for students to learn about themselves as people and thus identify what type of entrepreneur they would be.

ENT201A Entrepreneurial Business Model and Launch

In today’s competitive world, business success depends increasingly on the ability to innovate. Business leaders are already recognising the importance of how creative practice and process can improve product and service development and design thinking in shaping business strategy.

This subject focuses on the importance of innovation and creative thinking in achieving business success. Innovation is not an end result. Rather, through creativity and foresight, it is a way of thinking that enables individuals and organisations to more effectively define critical problems, possible solutions and foster positive change.

The ultimate goal is to provide a set of proven creativity methods, skills and strategies that enable innovative breakthroughs to occur in a deliberate and predictive manner.

ENT301A Funding and Financial Modelling

Many start-ups fail because aspiring entrepreneurs do not grasp the funding and financial modelling.

In order to successfully pitch to investors and Venture Capitalists (VCs), it is important to establish a strong business organisation that projects growth. To do this, it is crucial that the budding entrepreneurs can manage finances effectively by creating a financial model that allows them to make a profit and plan for growth.

The subject aims to help students understand the financial decision-making process largely from the point of view of the founder of an entrepreneurial venture. Students will learn to apply corporate finance tools and concepts related to modelling, valuation, control, and investment decisions within an entrepreneurial context. They will use cases with firms at different stages of their life cycles from initial angel or venture capital investments through exit decisions. Finally, students will explore new developments in entrepreneurial finance such as crowdfunding and early liquidity provisions.

ICMS graduate Alejandro Jara is the owner and founder of Black and White Waiters, Sydney's leading boutique Wait and Bar staffing agency, providing well-presented and professional personnel to the Sydney events industry. B&W is also a valued industry partner of ICMS and provides an annual scholarship opportunity.

What is the secret to success in this niche area of the events and hospitality industry?

I would say that the secret has been to really understand the needs and vision of our clients and propose solutions and ideas to make their vision a reality. In a world where people keep doing more of the same, it is not hard to be different. You just need to believe in your product and propose it to your clients so they will benefit in ways they never thought possible. Minute attention to detail and taking each job extremely seriously has also been the thing which has helped us grow.

Some companies, in time, become content with their systems and stop giving the time and attention that their clients need. It is an easy trap to be caught in; however, there is an opportunity for young companies to take advantage of this and gain market share.

What prompted you to partner with ICMS in a scholarship opportunity?

ICMS has always been extremely helpful with me and I still feel at home when I walk into the castle. I felt that starting a scholarship partnership with ICMS would be mutually beneficial and it was also a way to support the institution that supported me in the past, and which still supports me now. The Scholarships opportunity also gives us the chance to recruit directly from the college and we have been extremely happy with the students that now form part of the staff of Black and White Waiters.

What is the first thing you tell B&W scholarship winners when they first start their professional placement at B&W?

I tell them I am a big believer in young students as I was one of them when I started B&W. I tell them that there will be endless opportunities to grow and develop within this business if they enjoy working with us and would like to stay and grow with us.

How has your ICMS degree contributed to you achieving your professional goals?

Since the beginning and even now I put into practice all the knowledge and philosophy of service I learnt during my degree. I believe that my professional success goes hand in hand with my studies at ICMS.

What would be your advice to someone considering studying at ICMS?

I would tell them that they are about to start one of the most special journeys of their life and that they must make sure to enjoy every second of it! I would also tell them to make as many friends as possible and to be proactive in learning. It is easy to just go to the classrooms and pass the exams. However, those who take risks and genuinely try their best are the ones who are truly making the most of the resources ICMS offers. You can do this by staying after class and asking questions; putting your hand up to be the leader of teams or projects; learning how to get organised so you have a balanced lifestyle; take internships and opportunities, and more.

SUBJECT SNAPSHOTS

THE101A Introduction to Tourism, Hospitality and Events

Tourism, hospitality and events industries play an important role in the economies of developed and emerging countries. These industries generate substantial employment, personal and corporate income, tax revenues, foreign exchange earnings, investments, and infrastructure improvements for communities globally.

This subject aims to provide a solid introduction to the key concepts and terminology, stakeholders and relationship, innovation, current trends and management issues, as a foundation for future tourism, hospitality and event subjects. It also focuses on the dynamic nature of the main operational sectors with an emphasis on potential career opportunities.

TOU201A Tour Design and Development

This subject introduces students to the major components of tourism industry including the transport industry, travel agents, tourist destinations, tourist attractions, the hospitality industry, accommodation services, and tour operators. Students then will learn how to combine these components to create a package holiday and develop a selling tool to promote their products, holidays and itineraries.

TOU302A Sustainable and Competitive Destinations

The world has become a global community, opening up destinations that were previously unimaginable. These destinations can no longer take a passive approach to tourism marketing; they are products which need to be positioned and promoted sustainably. The desire to become a recognised destination presents some real marketing challenges in the face of intense competition as many destinations adopt an active marketing strategy to attract and retain their visitors. Therefore, it is necessary for the tourism planner and marketer to develop and promote their destination competitively and sustainably.

This subject aims to provide students with in-depth knowledge and understanding of the environmental, socio-cultural and economic impacts on a tourist destination. Students will explore various topics such as tourist motivation, branding a destination, managing tourists, special interest tourism and crisis management. They then will work collaboratively to develop a competitive and sustainable tourism plan for a destination.

Gemma Bennett,
ICMS Alumnus

What is your current role?

My current role is Executive Assistant to the General Manager and Hotel Manager at the Sofitel Sydney Darling Harbour.

Where did you do your Work Integrated Learning, and how has that helped you in your career?

I began my Work Integrated Learning at Q Station in Manly the year I started studying at ICMS and remained working there for six years while studying and travelling. I wouldn't have the job I have now if I didn't gain that work experience. In the last few years that I worked at Q Station it was taken over by Accor in the Mirvac acquisition. This enabled me to transfer internally into my next role, which was at the Novotel Manly (also managed by Accor). After four years at the Novotel Manly I transferred to the Sofitel Sydney Darling Harbour which is where I work today.

What career achievements are you especially proud of?

My greatest achievement so far is obtaining my current role. It was an honour to be chosen to be as part of the team that opened Sydney's first new build hotel in 17 years. While the opening was challenging it has been incredibly rewarding to see how far we have come since we opened our doors on 6 October 2017.

What were your highlights during your time at ICMS?

There are so many, including the Icebreaker parties, auctions to raise money for Bear Cottage, Tuesday nights at Shark Bar with other students, the graduation ceremonies and, of course, the exchange program I undertook in the United States with two of my best friends (who were also students at ICMS). I also made some amazing friendships over the time I spent at ICMS.

What would be your advice to someone considering studying at ICMS?

Do it - there isn't a more beautiful place to study in the world, you will receive a well-recognised education from industry professionals and forever look back at your time at ICMS as some of the best years of your life. I encouraged my brother, Tom Bennett, to study at ICMS and he would say the same!

What is the best thing about working in your industry?

The best thing about working in hotels is the relationships you develop with both your colleagues and guests. I have met guests over the years that I continue to stay in touch with.

I also love creating special and memorable moments for guests during their holidays; it is incredibly rewarding. No one day is ever the same and whilst the work can be tough at times, I wouldn't want to be doing anything else.

We also receive some very attractive discounts whilst travelling ourselves which is a nice perk!

Where do you see yourself in 10 years' time?

I really love being an Executive Assistant. The role suits my personality and I love the variety. In 10 years I predict I would be an EA for a Senior VP at a Hotel company. Alternatively, I could see myself working in a management role, for example as a Guest Experience Manager.

“My overall goal in life has always been to be a part of the entertainment and media industry, and being able to do it every day has been so fulfilling.”

Kiana Harvey,
ICMS Alumna

What is your current role?

I work in the Sponsorship and Promotions department of Channel Seven on the morning breakfast show, Sunrise. Every day is different and that's the beauty of the job. Whether I'm working behind the scenes of a weather cross, working with the 'Cash Cow', on a live studio concert or an onsite broadcast, there are many aspects to my role. Being behind the scenes of a live television program is extremely stressful and crazy, but seeing a show come together and seeing the things you have worked on become a success is what makes the role so beneficial and rewarding in itself.

What career achievements are you especially proud of?

I recently worked on a promotional tour for American popstar Katy Perry while she was in Australia for both Sunrise and for my other employer, Sydney radio station 2DayFM. Being a part of the production team was an exciting and rewarding experience and a major learning curve as I had a lot of control over what would happen on the tour. Being able to witness the entire process from the early organising stages right to the end was an amazing experience and is definitely something I am very proud to have been a part of.

I've also been lucky enough to work with the likes of Tom Cruise, Ed Sheeran, Niall Horan and Robbie Williams, to name a few, in such a short amount of time after leaving ICMS, but the reaction and response from the audience is what makes the job so amazing.

What were the major contributing factors to your decision to study at ICMS?

ICMS offers so many things that many other universities and colleges don't. What really attracted me to study at the college was the ability to travel while studying, and the Work Integrated Learning, which allows you to get a foot in the door for your future career. I think that being able to do this has added so much credibility to my resume and this is something that is often pointed out by professionals in my industry. Work Integrated Learning at ICMS has opened so many doors for me.

What were your highlights during your time at ICMS?

Being chosen for the inaugural ICMS New York Study Tour in my first year at ICMS is not only the highlight of my time at ICMS but an overall highlight in my life. Working on New York Fashion Week, going behind the scenes of some of the world's best venues and having that experience has opened so many doors for me and has broadened my professional and personal network.

What would be your advice to someone considering studying at ICMS?

Be open and available to any and every experience that ICMS provides - even if it is just working on the Open Days or even O-Week! So many of these industries - from events, to property and hospitality - are about 'who you know' and you never know who you may meet at events like these. Get yourself known, be yourself and never be scared to let your voice be heard.

What is the best thing about working in your industry?

“In the future I hope to become a Senior Leader training other graduates as this is such an important time for career development. I’m constantly learning in this industry so this is definitely the next goal I’m working towards.”

Ben Manton,
ICMS Alumnus

An International College of Management, Sydney (ICMS) professional placement led to fulltime employment at ASX-listed retail property landlord SCA Property Group for ICMS graduate Ben Manton.

Ben stayed on at Shopping Centres Australasia (SCA Property Group) after graduation, and is currently working in retail development at the Sydney Head Office. According to their website, SCA Property Group is “an internally managed real estate investment trust (REIT) owning a portfolio of quality sub-regional and neighbourhood shopping centres and freestanding retail assets focused on convenience retailing across Australia”.

Ben said, “I started my current role through ICMS work integrated learning, which helped me understand the basics of the property industry, and from there I just grew and developed in the company. They kept me on, which has been a really great achievement.”

He progressed from leasing administration to being part of the team that handles shopping centre developments. Ben sees this role as a stepping stone towards continued upward mobility within the industry and at the company.

“There are some great leaders at SCA Property Group who have inspired me on a personal and professional level and I hope one day to achieve what they have,” he said.

Ben’s biggest career achievement to date was in his role within the team finalising a retail development in far north QLD.

“I was a part of this project from commencement and assisted the senior development team through to completion. I learned a lot along the way, something which I really enjoyed but also benefited from immensely.”

ICMS attracted Ben because of a strong interest in the broader property industry as a whole while the Work Integrated Learning component allowed him to refine his skills in a particular sector.

SUBJECT SNAPSHOTS

SPO101A Sports Management Fundamentals

Sport Management Fundamentals enables you to recognise key aspects of the business of sport and to determine how it differentiates itself from other industries. The subject looks at internal aspects of sporting organisations such as strategic sport management, marketing, human resource and financial management and future sport management challenges.

Sport Management Fundamentals also looks at external factors such as professional sport, digital media, not for profit and organisational structures, governance and the role of the state, including the influence of politics in the business of sport. All topics draw on Australian and international case studies, with contemporary examples utilised to help support theory.

SOP201A Sports Marketing

Introducing students to the core issues and concerns of marketing in the sport industry, 'Sports Marketing' provides students with an overview of the strategies and practices used by sports organisations to market their products and services to customers. To this end, the subject explores marketing concepts as they relate to the funding, promotion and commercial development of sport across various organisational levels.

SPO301A Athlete Management and Representation

High performance sport operates in an increasingly complex legal, social, political and technological environment. Given the ever-increasing demands placed on high performance athletes today, managers require the appropriate professional skills, knowledge, and experience to support these athletes during their playing careers and in periods of transition, including extensive understanding of the legal and social frameworks and systems required to maximise playing talent and career transition.

This subject will provide students with a critical understanding of the management and coordination of athlete talent within the Australian sport system. An underlying theme of the subject is the management of sport careers and also support for transition into retirement, and cessation of life as a professional or high-performance athlete.

Students will also develop an understanding of dual career management and the policies, programs, processes and structures that influence athlete performance, personal development, and transition. Key considerations include the management of personal branding, financial literacy, well-being and behaviour, communication and social media strategies.

“In 10 years’ time I would love to be managing large scale sporting events and competitions within Australia or even internationally.”

Zoe Grout,
Bachelor of Business (Sports Management)

International College of Management, Sydney (ICMS) student Zoe Grout may well be managing sports events on the scale of the Rugby World Cup or the Olympics one day if she follows her dreams and fulfils her ambitions.

Zoe is in her second year at ICMS and, in that time, she has won an ICMS Professional Scholarship and served as a Student Ambassador. She is currently completing her Work Integrated Learning as an Events and Game Day assistant with the Manly Warringah Sea Eagles.

The Manly Warringah Sea Eagles, based in Sydney’s Northern Beaches, are an Australian professional rugby league team that competes in the National Rugby League’s Telstra Premiership, which is the premier rugby league competition of Australia.

“All the staff at Sea Eagles, from the membership team to the CEO, push me to work to the best of my abilities and challenge me to work out of my comfort zone, which has allowed me to learn so much in a short period of time,” Zoe said.

“The sports industry is full of passionate individuals who are driven to provide entertainment through competition, which I align with. In 10 years’ time I would love to be managing large scale sporting events and competitions within Australia or even internationally. Something like the NRL, Rugby World Cup, or even the Olympics.”

Work Integrated Learning is built into every degree offered by ICMS, a career-focused higher education institute located in the Northern Beaches, NSW. It was this emphasis, within the tertiary offering, that attracted Zoe to study at ICMS. She believes it is this aspect that will stand her in good stead as she forges a career in the competitive sports industry.

“Work Integrated Learning is allowing me to apply the content we cover in lectures to the real world, to strengthen my understanding of the sports industry and to build connections,” Zoe said.

“The professional standards at ICMS allow the transition into the industry to be smooth, and the education I am receiving here provides me with the assurance that I can enter a full time role with a firm understanding of the industry. The Work Integrated Learning aspect of my ICMS degree will set me up with connections that will be valued throughout my career.”

To prospective students, Zoe advised: “Don’t even think twice about applying - studying at ICMS will be the best decision you make!”

Where did you do your Work Integrated Learning and how has that helped you in your career?

I completed my Work Integrated Learning at the Four Seasons Hotel in Sydney where I spent nine months working in their Banquets Department. The role allowed me to utilise the skills I had been learning at the International College of Management, Sydney (ICMS) in the 'real world' and learn about five star standards. It gave me a strong insight on how events are run and it was great to see the variety of ways a hotel ballroom can be transformed to suit any event, whether it be an awards night, wedding or conference.

What is your current role?

I am an Event Manager at the Australian branch of cievnts, a global strategic corporate event management agency with offices in Australia, New Zealand, Hong Kong, United Kingdom, United States, Canada and South Africa.

What career achievements are you especially proud of?

When I am on site for my events I am extremely proud of what I have brought to life. To be given someone's vision and to be able to create that is a big achievement. It's especially rewarding when you receive positive feedback from your clients and delegates too.

How has your ICMS degree contributed to you achieving your professional goals?

The degree helped me get my foot in the door, I think half the operations staff at cievnts come from ICMS; the college is highly respected within my organisation.

What were your highlights during your time at ICMS?

The friends I made during my studies were a big highlight for me. It's also nice to now have so many contacts in the industry. As part of one of the subjects we had to organise our own event in teams. I am a practical learner so for me, personally, this gave me a great insight into what being an Event Manager would truly be like.

What would be your advice to someone considering studying at ICMS?

ICMS gives you many opportunities to grow your skills and knowledge but you also have to be willing to take them. Join the committees that ICMS has and volunteer to work at events; the more practical experience you have the better. This will put you ahead of the competition when you graduate and start applying for jobs.

Take every opportunity you can to make contacts in the industry, this will build up your event network. It was through one of my contacts that I got my current job.

What is the best thing about working in your industry?

The perks! I have been incredibly lucky and have travelled all over the world, staying at five-star properties and experiencing different cultures. There are so many experiences I would have never had without my role which I am forever grateful for.

“Employers look for students from ICMS as they have both practical knowledge and experience.”

Jessica Ho,
ICMS Alumna

What is your current role, and how did you get there?

I am currently the Corporate Sales Coordinator at Hyatt Regency Sydney, also assisting with managing Hyatt Regency Sydney's corporate accounts. I assist with new business pitches and consumer facing marketing and events.

I started my nine month professional placement at Shangri La Sydney in their fine dining restaurant, Altitude. I worked there for two years while studying at the same time.

I moved on to Park Hyatt Sydney as a food and beverage attendant where I was able to use my service skills learnt from my professional placement and from the subjects at ICMS.

I was quickly promoted to Hostess, where I was the face of The Dining Room and was also responsible for promoting the restaurant to diners.

I was then headhunted by Pier One Sydney Harbour for the role of Food and Beverage Coordinator, responsible for promoting their restaurant and bar, and for the coordination of events such as those held on New Year's Eve and for corporate and private events. I also trained staff on food and beverage admin and operations.

What career achievements are you especially proud of?

While at Pier One Sydney, I implemented SOPs (Standard Operating Procedures) for administration, sales and operational duties.

How has your ICMS degree contributed to you achieving your professional goals?

ICMS gave me a great overall understanding of hotel operations and admin from events, food and beverage, front office, rooms and revenue management. I started as a corporate sales coordinator with no rooms background; however, my degree helped me fill that gap.

What would be your advice to someone considering studying at ICMS?

Do not second guess the opportunity to study at ICMS. Employers look for students from ICMS as they have both practical knowledge and experience.

What is the best thing about working in your industry?

No two days are the same. There is always a challenge to overcome while maintaining the integrity of the hotel's brand and seamlessly making the customer's journey remarkable.

Intern like a BOSS

A practical way to strengthen your skills in your field of study, structured as part of your degree as a stepping stone to get you the job after you graduate.

All our degrees include Work Integrated Learning (WIL) subjects in which students undertake a placement with an industry partner (also known as Industry Training or Internship). Industry training is an important part of the ICMS experience. As an ICMS student, our industry connections are your industry connections. We recognise that graduates need more than a qualification to be competitive in a challenging job market.

Throughout your degree you will have practical opportunities to strengthen your skills in your field of study. This is your opportunity to showcase your professional skills. For many of our graduates this experience introduces them to their future employers.

Industry training is also the ideal environment for learning. Theory is important, it provides you with the fundamentals and context of your field of study. But theory is nothing without professional experience, where you can apply your knowledge to a real-world context. Not only will this make you more employable, it will also help to reinforce all that you have learnt in the classroom.

How does it work?

We have an impressive network of industry partners. These leading companies provide invaluable industry insight and experience to help shape your qualifications and ensure they are in line with industry best practice. When you study with us you also learn directly from industry with on-site visits and guest lectures from the best in the business.

There are two stages in our industry training program:

Stage 1: Pre-Placement Program

During your first year of study you will undertake a Pre-Placement Program. You will prepare a resume, practise interview techniques and gain the necessary knowledge and skills to secure your placement. The Pre-Placement Program is delivered by our Work Integrated Learning team who provide coaching and guidance. This valuable experience will prepare you for your placement and equip you with skills for future employment.

Stage 2: Industry Training Placement

You will complete your industry placement with one of our industry partners. There are no college fees during your industry training period as you will be on placement with one of our prestigious ICMS industry partners. This is an opportunity to demonstrate the skills and knowledge you have learnt at ICMS, gain valuable contacts in your chosen field of study as well as gain practical "real world" experience that enhances your career.

experience gets JOBS

It takes more than studying academic subjects to succeed in today's competitive job market, a reality embraced by the International College of Management Sydney (ICMS) with 100% of students gaining work experience before they graduate.

Alongside the challenging academic curriculum, the 6 to 9 month work placement program is an integral component of every ICMS course and degree. All students have the opportunity to learn the key requirements of their chosen career focus area in the actual engine room of industry.

Real life work experience translates into real life success for ICMS graduates, almost 90% of whom graduate with a job in their chosen field (2018 Internal Graduate Survey). This outcome can be directly tied to more than 1000 industry partners aligned with the college and its career-focused curriculum.

"Our industry contacts are your industry contacts," ICMS Founder and President Darryl Courtney-O'Connor said. Owing to the depth and breadth of the industry partners with whom ICMS collaborates, students can find a placement that truly suits them.

ICMS places such a premium on industry placements because this experience offers students an inside track to a job in their chosen profession. It's a win-win-win scenario, for the students, the industry partners and for ICMS itself.

"ICMS puts student outcomes as paramount as they are the key to our reputation," Courtney-O'Connor said.

Four-months after course completion, ICMS graduates are employed full-time at a rate better than the top ranked Australian University on the QS World University Rankings. The latest QILT (Quality Indicators for Learning and Teaching) survey showed that more than three quarters of ICMS students have a full time job within four months of graduation (QILT). ICMS believes that it is the quality of the theory taught in the castle on the hill in Manly, combined with the compulsory work placement students undertake as part of their degree, that results in ICMS students getting such good outcomes in the job market.

Spending time in corporate corridors gives students the practical experience they need to succeed after graduation. Students have the opportunity to practise the theories taught in the classroom, and add value to the work environment in which they are placed.

Mikey Foley from Ubisoft said "The company had been working with ICMS students for a while now, and the passion of the students shone through in their work placement. This passion and energy can be channelled and used by the company for its own benefit. It's really nice to be their introduction to the working world and to help them along the way."

The dual approach of working and doing clearly underpins the success of ICMS graduates.

For example, a training placement at the Reserve Bank of Australia while at ICMS kickstarted Property Management graduate Chakyl Camal's career in property. "I gained valuable experience in facilities management, engaging with stakeholders and managing projects," he said.

Bachelor of Business (Sports Management) student Gemma Allen asserts that her ICMS industry experience working in Membership and Ticketing at the Australian Rugby Union made it easier for her to gain a similar role at the Wests Tigers Rugby League Club within months of graduating.

Alicia Budihardja owns her own business in Bali. She said her ICMS industry placement at the Sheraton on the Park in Sydney was key in giving her a greater understanding of what it took to understand a client and deliver what they wanted. "For me it was a great experience. It was a first, true taste of what the hospitality industry was like."

And working at the Australian Bridal Service (ABS) during her industry placement helped Events Management student Sarah Manefield discover where her strengths and talents lie, so she can pursue them right after graduating.

"Industry training has helped me work out where I want to head in my career ... I discovered I want to work in the operations and logistics side as I like to organise and improve efficiency," Manefield said.

10 TIPS to make graduates more EMPLOYABLE

As Australia's leader of career-focused education, ICMS ensures graduate employability and work integrated learning is a focal point of our curriculum. From day one, students are encouraged and inspired to dream big and explore all opportunities available to them.

This philosophy is paramount in ensuring ICMS has one of the highest graduate employment rates in Australia, with almost 90% of our students graduating with a job in their field. ICMS is also ranked number one for Bachelor of Event Management and Bachelor of Hospitality Management in Australia, based on the longest continuous industry placement, student professionalism, work-ready students and our industry training team's customer care.*

Improving your employability skills will help you graduate with the best prospect of securing a job in your field of study. Combine these tips with what you learn in the classroom, and you might just find yourself ahead of the pack when you graduate:

1. Work experience: When you study at ICMS, industry experience is a requirement of your qualification. Graduates are able to highlight their practical experience giving them the makings of a fantastic resume. Industry experience is the most effective way to develop the skills you will need to succeed in your professional life.

2. The right experience: Students are encouraged to embrace volunteer opportunities and to obtain a casual job gaining valuable experience in the workplace. These skills along with your industry training in your chosen field is a winning combination. Make sure the experience you have aligns with your future career goals. Remember you may need to start at the bottom of the ladder you want to climb.

3. Communication is key: Emails, presentations, social media posts, monthly reports – writing effectively and for your target audience is a skill that needs to be developed. How you write is critical in communicating in the workplace and is a reflection of you as a professional. Learn to use the appropriate tone and terminology in all communication.

4. The art of diplomacy: Treat others how they want to be treated, be respectful and appreciate other opinions.

5. Find your own voice and make it heard: Our smaller class sizes with a focus on presentations and group assessments will develop your confidence in addressing others. Whether speaking potential clients, contributing in a team meeting or pitching an impressive idea, ICMS will give you the tools to build that confidence.

6. Get connected: In a digitally connected world, you must be comfortable with using new technologies. Upskill in social media, know your Snapchat from your Facebook and Instagram – not just as a user, but also as a generator. As for basic office software, be the employee that knows the shortcuts and how to use programs effectively.

7. Money management: Even if your particular role doesn't call for an intimate knowledge of the economy, finances or budgets, be knowledgeable in these areas: it will set you apart from the rest of the pack.

8. Networking is crucial: Broaden your network, embrace connections both professionally and personally. At ICMS you will make lifelong friends, local and international connections. Remember: although creating these networks and your social media presence can keep you connected, it also allows others access to your past interactions. Therefore, "don't burn your bridges".

9. Finding the answer: There are no limits to what you can achieve if you don't stop learning. Technology allows us access to readily available information instantaneously. If you don't know something, don't be scared to ask.

10. Thicken your skin: An expert in anything was once a beginner. Accept new challenges where you may make mistakes. Learn to be resilient and accept constructive criticism. The CEO of a company started somewhere, and often the greatest business success stories were created where hard lessons were learnt.

Choosing to study at ICMS and gaining valuable industry experience will help you kick-start your career and stand out from the crowd. Industry experience is part of all ICMS degrees and our industry partners and faculty embrace these tips, holding them front and centre when engaging with ICMS students.

WHEN TO APPLY

ICMS has three trimesters for undergraduate studies per year (February, May and September) and three intakes for Postgraduate studies per year (February, July and September). Late applications are accepted, however places at ICMS are limited.

To apply through the Universities Admissions Centre (UAC) you need to adhere to its application deadlines. 2021 UAC applications will open in early April 2010. Visit www.uac.edu.au for more info.

ICMS High Academic Places (HAP) (February intake only)

Hard work deserves to be rewarded so our High Academic Places will mean that your study at ICMS will be at a cost more comparable to a Commonwealth Supported Place (CSP). These places are awarded on the basis of application interview and academic performance in your HSC or equivalent.

Only UAC applicants will be considered for an ICMS High Academic Place. Students who are not offered a High Academic Place are eligible for direct entry or alternative entry.

We recommend you apply both directly to ICMS and through UAC.

PATHWAYS TO ICMS

If you fall short of ICMS entry requirements you may be offered an alternative entry pathway through Aspire Institute. For more information refer to page 94 or visit www.aspire.edu.au.

EARLY ENTRY

Our Early Entry Scheme is designed for high-achieving HSC students who want to secure a place at ICMS before sitting the HSC exams.

To be eligible, you need to demonstrate that you have a strong academic record and the potential to be an outstanding ICMS student through your passion and commitment for a career in one of the areas of study we offer: Business Management, Event Management, Hospitality Management, International Tourism, Marketing and New Media Management, Entrepreneurship, Property Development, Sports Management, Fashion and Global Brand Management and Accounting.

ELITE ATHLETE AND PERFORMER ENTRY PATHWAY

Being an elite athlete or performer should not impact your chances of university level study. We know you are not defined by your academic results alone. Let us take that into consideration with your application.

LEADERSHIP ENTRY PROGRAM

Our Leadership Entry Program offers students who have demonstrated significant leadership in their school and/or community, a place at ICMS based on their academic achievement, leadership experience and aspirations, and a nomination from their school.

More details can be found on the ICMS website.

ENTRY REQUIREMENTS

ICMS.EDU.AU/ENTRY

ACADEMIC ENTRY REQUIREMENTS

The minimum academic entry requirements for all ICMS degrees are detailed in the entry requirements section of the ICMS website. The most recent academic entry requirements by country are listed on the ICMS website at www.icms.edu.au/entry.

How to Apply

ICMS offers several admission pathways and a holistic approach to assessing applicants including the opportunity of an interview combined with consideration of a recognised certificate, qualifications or at least 12 months of full time paid work experience in an area. Applicants may apply directly via the ICMS website Online Application or through the University Admissions Centre (UAC).

Pathways to ICMS

Applicants who do not meet the required entry requirements should consider applying for a diploma through pathway provider Aspire Institute. Aspire offers higher education diplomas as a stand-alone qualification or, should applicants wish to further their studies, they could choose to use the diploma qualification as a pathway into a bachelor program at ICMS, or one of the other distinguished Australian universities and colleges that Aspire has partnership with.

Advanced Standing / Recognition of Prior Learning / Credit Transfers

Applicants who can demonstrate successful completion of equivalent subjects at a recognised institution may be eligible for credit towards study at ICMS.

Similarly, applicants who can demonstrate competence attained through formal training, work experience and/or life experience may also be eligible for advanced standing in an ICMS course.

View the Advanced Standing Policy in the Student Handbooks or contact info@icms.edu.au for further information.

ENGLISH LANGUAGE REQUIREMENTS

For entry into an ICMS Bachelor degree, the following English language requirements apply. If you do not meet the English language proficiency requirements, pathway options are available through the Aspire Institute – see page 74 for more information.

- IELTS (academic): Overall score of 6.0, writing 5.5, speaking 5.5.
- TOEFL i-BT: Overall score of 69, writing 19, speaking 17.
