13. Disclosure Statement

You must disclose anything about your character, past or current circumstances that could reasonably be construed as having an adverse impact on your personal standing or impact on the reputation of Bond University or possibly bring the University into disrepute.

This includes, but is not limited to:

- convictions (other than minor driving offences)
- criminal charges (including pending charges)
- bankruptcy proceedings
- drug and alcohol offences (including ASADA and sports breaches)
- domestic violence
- academic cheating or plagiarism findings
- terrorism acts
- inciting racial hatred and related activities.

Your duty of disclosure includes all past and current circumstances and is an ongoing obligation, including and not limited to events, circumstances and actions from the lodgement of this application through to enrolment, and an ongoing duty to disclose the same during your period of enrolment as a student if you receive and accept an offer.

Note that disclosure of such acts or circumstances does not necessarily invalidate your application. The University reserves the right to examine each individual application having regard to personal circumstances and each disclosure will normally be discussed with the applicant.

You should also be aware that, depending on your chosen program and any necessary post-graduation registrations or licensing arrangements you will be required to make similar disclosures to an external body. This is a separate disclosure to that required by the University.

I understand that the University can withdraw any subsequent offer or cancel my subsequent enrolment at its sole discretion in the event of my failure to disclose this information.

Please pick one:

- I have read the Disclosure Statement and I have nothing to disclose.
- I have read the Disclosure Statement and I have attached a disclosure.

14. Declaration

- I declare that all information provided by me on this application and in my supporting documents are complete, accurate and truthful.
- I will notify Bond University immediately should any information provided by me ceases to be complete, accurate and truthful.
- I understand that Bond University reserves the right to vary or withdraw my admission or terminate my enrolment where incomplete, false or misleading information has been provided by me or a certifying authority about me.
- I acknowledge that Bond University reserves the right to rescind an offer if that offer has been made in error to me.
- I confirm that I have reviewed the program outline(s) for the program(s) that I am applying for, and that I am able to meet the program inherent requirements.
- I authorise Bond University to request and obtain information relevant to my enrolment at previous institutions, including my academic transcript and any other document requested that is relevant to my application for a place at Bond University.
- I authorise Bond University to verify my work experience as provided on this form with the organisations and authorities concerned.
- I understand and accept that Bond University collects, stores, manages and disclose my personal information in accordance with the Bond University's Privacy Policy and any other privacy law. Information about my admission, enrolment and other information I provide may be made available to agencies such as the Tertiary Education Quality Standards Agency (TEQSA), the Tuition Protection Service (TPS) and other Australian Government agencies to meet Bond University's obligations as required, or permitted by law.
- I agree to abide by the Regulations, Policies and Procedures of Bond University, and to ensure payment of all fees and other liabilities for the program/s I apply to. I understand that I am solely responsible for paying any applicable fees or other liabilities involved in applying to or undertaking the program I choose.
- I acknowledge that Bond University has obligations under Australian Commonwealth Legislation that may prevent the University from making me an offer even if I meet program entry requirements. These laws may also prevent the University from accepting me into programs even if an offer was issued. As an international student applicant, I acknowledge that I will be subject to additional non-academic criteria to meet the University's migration law requirements and legal obligations under the Autonomous Sanctions legislation. The criteria that the University uses is applied at its sole discretion and is subject to change.
- I accept full responsibility for paying my tuition fees and living expenses whilst studying at Bond University. I understand that the University and the Australian Government are not obliged to provide financial assistance to me.
